

View in browser

University of Pittsburgh

Department of Economics
Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences

PANTHERNOMICS

August 2020

Congratulations Class of 2020!

During this year's Commencement, the Department of Economics honored its graduating seniors digitally. Seniors shared their post-graduation plans as well as their thanks to family, friends, and Pitt through the Department's Commencement slideshow.

Read More

View the Slideshow

A Word From The Class of 2020

T o
R
a

Department
Samuel pandemic

Read about Andie

There are Several Ways to Give to the Department of Economics

Your gifts are used for undergraduate and graduate awards, undergraduate research, graduate student conference travel, and for the distinguished lecture series.

Give Now

Alumni Opportunities

The MQE Program is seeking professionals to share their expertise and experiences with our graduate students.

Learn More

Pitt Economics, By the Numbers

Read More

Stefania Albanesi      Rania Gihleb
Wall Street Journal Highlights Research from Professors Albanesi and Gihleb

"Coronavirus Employment Shock Hits Women Harder Than Men"

Read More

Alison Schertzer

Randy Walsh

The Economist Features Research from Professors Schertzer and Walsh

"Economic Research Documents Black Americans' Struggle for Equality"

Read More

Alumni - Stay Connected with the Department of Economics.

Connect

Pitt Commons - Build your Pitt family through purposeful connections.

Connect

Kenneth P. Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences
Department of Economics
4700 Wesley W. Posvar Hall, 230 South Bouquet Street
Pittsburgh, PA 15260
(412) 648-1730
Update Your Information | Unsubscribe