

View in browser

[Name of Econ Newsletter]
October 2019

(Insert Name Here)
News from the Pitt Department of Economics

We need your help naming our department newsletter! Click on the banner or visit <https://linkto.run/p/JFJCF5K7> to vote for this newsletter's name.

Welcome from the Chair

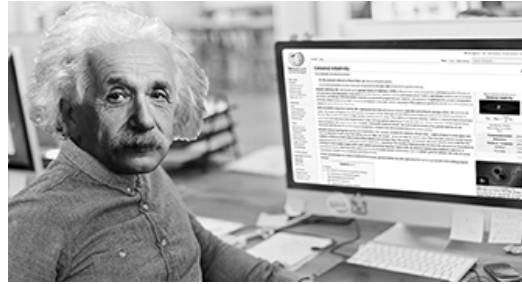

David Huffman, Pitt Economics Department Chair, welcomes you to our new department newsletter.

We need your help naming our department newsletter. Vote for the newsletter's name.

Read More

Scientists Using Wikipedia

Pitt Professor Doug Hanley shows how

Wikipedia is driving scientific progress, and discusses what that means for policy.

Read More

Department Alumna Named Rhodes Scholar

Econ alum Lia Petrose has won the prestigious Rhodes Scholarship.

Read More

Everyday Econ: Health Insurance Mandates

Everyday Econ: Health Insurance Mandates

Learn the economics behind health insurance mandates, requirements that everyone purchases or obtains health insurance.

Read More

Other Happenings

See a full list of our department's exciting

Coming to Homecoming? We'd love to see you! Visit

Connect with Pitt alumni and current students with highlights and awards.

Learn More

our renovated dept. to hear about our new Master in Quantitative Economics program and about the research our students and faculty are doing.

Learn More

Pitt Commons.

Learn More

Kenneth P. Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences
Department of Economics
4700 Wesley W. Posvar Hall, 230 South Bouquet Street
Pittsburgh, PA 15260

Update Your Information | Unsubscribe

Support Pitt Economics

